Good practices

- A meticulous career guidance system has been developed covering both the internal and external educational curriculum. The university maintains a high job placement rate by the implementation of public servant exam courses, measures for those sitting nurse and public health nurse examinations, internships and practical clinical training. These initiatives are worthy of evaluation.
- A Student Project Support System is in place for projects in which students play leading roles, such as the Circle Startup Project, and the Nebuta Festival Mask Production Project. The way the university conducts the encouragement of local understanding and student growth assistance through financial support is worthy of evaluation.
