Good practices

- It is worthy of evaluation that the library has staff who have acquired master's degree in musicology to support students working on their dissertations.
- It is worthy of evaluation that the university provides career guidance for students for a five-year period after they have graduated or completed their courses.
- At the library in the Chofu Campus, IC gates and automatic lending machines have been installed, and the students are able to use the library materials and databases even after the staff and contracted staff have left work. This fact is worthy of high evaluation.

Recommendations for improvement

- With regard to the expulsion, suspension and warnings stipulated in Article 26 of the Regulation for Enforcement of the School Education Act, the procedures concerning disciplinary action against the students have not been defined. In this respect, improvements are needed.
